

BIODATA

MPharm. NGUYEN THI HONG NGOC, Manager of Laboratory of Food Toxicology and Allergens, National Institute for Food Control. She achieved her Master's degree in Drug and Toxicology Testing from Hanoi University of Pharmacy in 2019. She has excellently skilled in chemical and biochemical testing methods for toxins and contaminants using varied chromatography methods. She has also taken part in and been a leader in some scientific projects, such as the identification and quantification of natural compounds from plants and animals, contaminants in processed food, adulterants in dietary supplements, food poisoning screening, and the main author of numerous studies in national journals.

